

ACTIVITY: Attack Points

OBJECTIVE: Understand what attack points are and how to use them

INSTRUCTIONS:

An attack point is a large distinct feature close to the control that is easy to find, from which the orienteer can navigate easily to the control site. Selection of a good attack point simplifies the orienteering so the orienteer can run quickly to this feature without fear of missing the control.

Print the 3 maps below and draw an orienteering course on them, trying to put your controls around attack points.

MATERIALS:

- Maps (down below)
- Printer
- Pens/pencils

Easy - Camp Gardner:

Medium - Fish Creek Glennfield:

Hard - Rumsey:

